Description

Original

Oil & Acrylic on Birch Panel.

This piece took over 100 hours to paint and has many layers of meaning. It depicts a stunning endangered Clouded Leopard, in. A cloudscape which is partly a play on its name and partly to do with this elusive cat's ethereal beauty. It touches upon the Rukai legend of the clouded leopard who led a hunter-warrior and its people through the mountains - a place commonly associated with ghosts and other spirits - to the region that would become their homeland. Symbolically this cat is often seen as a spirit guide as it's a cat that mainly lives up high in the trees and avoids human contact at all costs. There are supernatural touches to this piece, with the fractal sky and the subtle glow around the cat to hint at other realms and dimensions...
