Conservation Framed.

Kristjana's graceful skeletons, here together, weaving their own tale of love and passion in this remarkably touching Limited Edition artwork.

But these ethereal beings don't speak simply of a romantic love, but of a brain-aching, gut wrenching meeting of two hearts, their love pulsating through their entire bodies... Passion pumps through cardiac trumpets, feeding the secondary heart they wear on their sleeves. Skulls drip with tendrils of emotion, embracing hovering cloudbursts of anticipation, impatience and nervous excitement. Tentative fingers reach out for the gentlest touch, while steady feet below overcome mountains to reach the clouds - they are literally walking on air. All around, the beauty of nature pervades and thrives, it too seeing through the skin to the spirit within.
